

What is a Child Development “hybrid” course?

It is a course that meets half the semester in class and the other half on-line.

How does it work?

Two Child Development courses are taught at the same time on the same campus but they alternate weeks meeting in-class and on-line.

For Example: CHD 100 and CHD 204 are scheduled same day - same time - same campus

	Week One	Week Two	Week Three	Week Four
CHD 100	In-Class	On-line	In-Class	On-line
CHD 204	On-line	In-Class	On-line	In-Class

Notice that the nights CHD 100 is in class are the weeks that CHD 204 are on-line and vice-versa. This arrangement means you can complete two courses attending class one night a week and if you are only taking one course you come to class every other week.

- NOTE: 1) One can complete two courses attending one night a week or attend one course every other week.
2) The on-line portion of the course is paced!
3) Almost all on-campus Child Development courses are hybrid.

What if you don't know much about the internet?

If you e-mail, you can do a hybrid course! It is simple and we make sure our students can access the courses on the first night of class. If there are any challenges, we have technical support staff to help.

What if you don't have a computer?

We have computer labs accessible to students in the Learning Resource Centers and the Libraries at all JSCC campuses...not to mention, friends, family and the public libraries.

What are the advantages of a hybrid course?

It is the best of both worlds, you get to spend half of your course in class with your fellow students and you get to go on-line anytime day or night to complete the other half of your course.

How do I register for a hybrid course when it keeps showing time conflict?

Register for one of the courses then contact a CHD advisor to get the second course released to your student number so you can register. E-mail is really the best way! The advisor will need your Name, Student Number, and the CRN of the course you are wanting to add. (We are working to improve this process.) Admissions can override the time conflict if you register with them.
