Speech Team Looking for New Members

The Jefferson State Speech Team is looking for new members for the upcoming year. Team members can choose from 11 different events, ranging from poetry and dramatic interpretation to informative and persuasive speaking.

Students wanting to improve their research, writing, public speaking and dramatic skills should consider signing up for SPH 123 this summer and join a winning team. Research, writing and performance skills learned while on the team will enhance your college coursework and your career.
